

BALLOT

ELECTION OF THE ASAP BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR 2019–2020

You are asked to vote for four candidates in the System Vendor/System Integrator Category. If more than one person from your company is a member of ASAP, only one vote is allowed per company.

All candidates running for election bring with them impressive credentials as you will note from the candidate profiles included.

Please be sure to sign this ballot and fax it to 610/825-7641 no later than December 28. You may also scan and email your ballot to me (wal@computertalk.com). The new board will take over in January 2019, following our annual conference.

As always, I appreciate your cooperation.

Bill Lockwood,
Executive Director

CANDIDATE PROFILES FOR 2019-2020 TERM

PROVIDER CATEGORY: SYSTEM VENDOR/SYSTEM INTEGRATOR

Sonny Anderson

Sonny is vice president of technology at QS/1. QS/1 has been a member of ASAP since its founding and Sonny has been an active member for the past four years.

He holds a B.S. degree in computer science from the University of South Carolina and an international M.B.A degree, also from the University of South Carolina.

Why I would like to continue on the board:

“After graduating from college on Saturday, May 14, 1983, I showed up for work on Monday, May 16 and started my first job developing software for a pharmacy management system called QS/1. As someone who has devoted his entire professional career to advancing pharmacy technology, I would welcome the opportunity to serve on the ASAP board. ASAP is an organization whose mission has always been to enhance the practice of pharmacy and educate pharmacists on emerging technology and other changes that could impact the profession.

“I participated in the S&I PDMP project and feel that my work helped to promote the use of the ASAP Web Service standard. I have also participated in the calls with regard to upgrading the ASAP 4.2 reporting standard. I feel that my 30+ years of experience in the development of pharmacy-related technology would make me an ideal fit for the ASAP board.”

Charles Brinkley

Charles is director, pharmacy network, for CoverMyMeds and has been a member of ASAP for 19 years and a regular attendee at the ASAP conferences.

He holds a B.A. degree in marketing and a B.A. degree in management from the University of Texas at Arlington.

Why I would like to continue on the board:

“I would like to serve on the board because I believe I can bring a well-rounded perspective of the healthcare IT industry to the board. My positions with pharmacy IT vendors, switching and routing companies, and a PBM give me the ability to view things from many different perspectives. After being a member of this organization for so long, I would like to contribute back to it and the membership in this way.”

James H. Crenshaw III

James H. Crenshaw III is a customer facing senior business data analyst at Elsevier/GoldStandard with analytical and reporting skills that are complemented by a high degree business acumen. He has years of experience with data mining initiatives, including researching PDMP information for GoldStandard’s state DEA/PDMP modules.

James collaborates with RxNorm on drug product data elements, and holds bimonthly collaboration meetings with the RxNorm team. He is proficient in SQL and utilizes these skills designing ad hoc reports both for clinical and product teammates. He also enjoys creating solutions that require automation. James holds a B.S. degree from the University of Florida.

Why I would like to be elected to the board:

“The skill sets and knowledge base I have would be a great asset for the ASAP Board and would appreciate your vote for me.”

Miranda Rochol

Miranda Rochol is director of pharmacy strategy for IQVIA and has been a member of ASAP for two years during which time she has gained familiarity with the organization through her attendance at ASAP conferences. In her current position she works in the U.S. Reference Center of Excellence at IQVIA and focuses on strategy for the company’s pharmacy facing products. Miranda has worked in the pharmacy space for 20 years and has been with IQVIA for six years.

Prior to that she spent 11 years at Walgreens. Miranda is a graduate of Columbia Southern University in Alabama with a degree in healthcare management and is working toward a master’s degree at Concordia University in Wisconsin in organizational management. IQVIA has been a regular sponsor of ASAP conferences over the years.

Why I would like to be elected to the board:

“I am an excellent fit to serve on the ASAP board because your mission is my passion. I understand, value, and work every day to innovate within the role that technology plays in assisting pharmacists, promoting patient safety, complying with laws and regulations, and operating more efficiently. During my 11 years at Walgreens, I helped develop and implement pharmacy-based and health and wellness service delivery models in conjunction with, and for, customers in multiple healthcare distribution channels, including hospitals and health systems, physicians groups, community health care centers, public systems, etc., with the objective of expanding Walgreen's market share and profitability, while concurrently enhancing patient outcomes. Developing and implementing brand new integrated pharmacy solutions, and innovating our products to meet the changing needs of pharmacies, is my sole concentration. I listen to the needs of pharmacies, and keep my finger on the pulse of the ever-changing regulations and challenges they face. I would be an invaluable board member, and the experience would be invaluable to me."

Tom Wilson

Tom Wilson is chief technology innovation officer and executive vice president of eHealth Services for Tabula Rasa HealthCare where he leads the JRS Innovation Center and eHealth Services Business Unit. Tom has worked in healthcare IT for the past 23 years, with 19 of those years focused around pharmacy and medication management.

Prior to joining Tabula Rasa HealthCare, his career included leading the development effort to build GuardianRx, the first Windows-based pharmacy platform at CarePoint, Inc. In addition he led the development effort at ExcelleRx (Hospice Pharmacia) to create a web-based, custom call-center pharmacy system that managed the order, dispense, and shipment of 25,000 to 30,000 dispenses a day. Then at CareKinesis, Inc., Tom took the lead on the development effort to create a cloud and secure message-based medication management system called EireneRx, used in PACE (Programs of All-inclusive Care for the Elderly) environments to provide pharmacist care at the point of care and easy-to-use adherence packaging products to an aging patient population.

He has been a member of ASAP for two years and has attended three ASAP conferences since then. His company has also been a sponsor of the conferences. Tom holds a M.I.S.

degree from the University of Georgia.

Why I would like to be elected to the board:

"My years of experience in pharmacy software technology will enable me to bring a valued insight to the board from the perspective of patient care and how pharmacists are positioned to be at the point of patient care in the upcoming decades."

PROVIDER CATEGORY: CHAIN PHARMACY

Jermaine Smith, R.Ph.

Jermaine Smith, R.Ph., is senior director, legislative & regulatory affairs for Rite Aid Pharmacy. He is a graduate of the University of South Carolina. Jermaine's position at Rite Aid includes PDMPs (Prescription Drug Monitoring Programs) and all aspects of pharmacy automation for over 2,500 pharmacies. Throughout his tenure with Rite Aid, he has held various positions including staff pharmacist, pharmacy manager, pharmacy district manager, director of college relations & professional recruitment, and senior director of college relations & professional recruitment. Jermaine currently serves on numerous professional societies and advisory boards including the Board of Visitors at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy, Notre Dame of Maryland University, School of Pharmacy Advisory Board, and Trustee Member of the National Pharmaceutical Foundation. In affiliation with the American Pharmacists Association (APhA) and the National Association of Chain Drug Stores Foundation (NACDS Foundation).

Jermaine served as an advisory board member for the training program, "The Community Pharmacist Preceptor Education Program." He is a former commissioner of the Maryland Board of Pharmacy, an active member of the American Pharmacists Association, life member of the National Pharmaceutical Association, and Past-President of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association.

Jermaine is assuming the position vacated by Mick Podgurski, upon Mike's retirement from Rite Aid in November.

PROVIDER CATEGORY: INDEPENDENT PHARMACY/SPECIALITY PHARMACY

Tim Davis, Pharm.D.

Tim owns two independent pharmacies in the Pittsburgh area, Beaver Health Mart Pharmacy and Beaver Falls Health Mart Pharmacy. He also launched the nationally recognized PANTHERx Specialty Pharmacy in 2011. Tim received his doctor of pharmacy degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy, following a B.S. degree in neuroscience from the University of Pittsburgh. He currently serves on the ASAP board, representing independent pharmacies.

Why I would like to continue on the board:

“It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve on the ASAP board of directors as a representative of independent pharmacy practice. The direct impact that ASAP has on our profession is profound, and the care with which ASAP approaches the marketplace is unrivaled. It has been refreshing to be part of an organization with the capability to carry a message to our most vital vendor base, with the best interests of patients and pharmacists in mind.”

PROVIDER CATEGORY: INSTITUTIONAL PHARMACY

Lisa Miller

Lisa is director of product development for SoftWriters and has been a member of ASAP for the past six years. Since becoming a member she has attended all but one ASAP conference.

Lisa holds a B.S. degree in information systems from Robert Morris University.

Why I would like to continue on the board:

“With over 20 years of experience working with a pharmacy vendor systems in the long-term care pharmacy space, I have seen the challenges that the community faces with the lack of standards that are available today to effectively communicate information between different parties. I would like to continue to be part of a group that is diligently working to help resolve these issues. I have experience with developing and implementing the different standards that are in place today. I understand the challenges that we have faced in the past and can help improve the process for the entire community going forward.”
